BURCH, TAZ
Brookwood Clinic Note

DOB: [REDACTED] [REDACTED]
03/01/2004

CHIEF COMPLAINT: He is in today from Dr. THEODIS BUGGS for a problem with his injury to his right long finger.

HISTORY OF PRESENT ILLNESS: He states, according to him, that he was assaulted by police officers who were trying to arrest him on February 16 of this year. He injured his long finger and his thumb. He says that he has been seen in the Emergency Room in Jasper on a couple of occasions. He had his finger anesthetized and attempts were made to reduce it. He has recently been seen by Dr. Buggs who referred him here. The patient interestingly has a long history of problems with his right arm and hand. He is actually on disability because of his preexisting injury. He had a high laceration to his arm above his elbow approximately ten years ago sustaining apparent nerve injury. It looks as though he had a fasciotomy and skin graft. He states that he has not had normal sensation in his radial fingers nor normal use. He said that he had some flexion of the long finger, but it is not normal and that he has pretty much bypassed the finger for many activities of daily living.

PAST MEDICAL HISTORY/SOCIAL HISTORY/FAMILY HISTORY/REVIEW OF SYSTEMS: As per the intake sheet.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION: He is a gentleman in no distress. He was not wearing any splints or supports on his hand. His right long finger is slightly flexed and quite swollen. He has slight swelling in the IP area of his thumb but no significant pain and he has reasonable active flexion. The circulation appears to be intact in all of the fingers. However, his sensation is greater than 15 mm on the thumb, index, long and ring and 6/6 on the small. Range of motion is thumb active 50 degrees of the MP, 35 degrees of the PIP in his index and long and he had 90 and 60 degrees of flexion at the MP respectively. There is no active C-PIP or DIP. Ring and small have normal range. Semmes-Weinstein testing showed significant impairment on the long finger.

RADIOGRAPHS: The outside films were reviewed. They show a severe fracture and subluxation of the long finger with avulsion of the central slip, complete disruption of the articular surface of the middle phalanx. He also has a short oblique minimally displaced fracture of the thumb.

PLAN: I had a lengthy discussion with him about his situation and we had Linda, the therapist, present. The patient wants an amputation through the PIP joint. I discussed the range of outcomes with him for this type of injury, particularly when this is treated late. I told him that there is a very high likelihood that the finger will be stiff but I could not tell him that it would not have some function. He did understand that it would take a good bit of therapy. He states that he had great difficulty with transportation trying to get back and forth and that he needed to do something that was as simple as possible. He was desirous of having an amputation. We spent a great deal of time with him discussing the implications of that. I told him that I could not promise him that he would not have pain at the amputation site or sensitivity. We made sure that he understood that this was permanent.* He did not want me to try to fix the fracture. I do think that his request is reasonable given his previous injury and his social circumstances. He does understand the permanence of the situation and the fact that I cannot guarantee him that he will not have pain.
